The NAIS interdisciplinary major has two tracks: a conventional track and a language track. Both tracks require a minimum of 56 credits, at least 28 of which must be taken in residence at the UO, the same core coursework and distribution requirements, and 1 year of Indigenous language instruction. At least one upper-division course must be taken from Group 3: Literature, Media, and the Arts. The language track includes a 2nd year of Indigenous language instruction and 12 fewer elective credits.

The NAIS interdisciplinary minor requires a minimum of 28 credits, at least 16 of which must be taken at the upper-division, and one of which must have a focus on Oregon Indians. Students must fulfill distribution requirements, taking at least one class each from the following groups: Group I: Culture, Language, and Education; Group II: Law, Policy, Governance, and History; Group III: Literature, Media, and the Arts.

All courses for the major and minor must be taken for letter grades and completed with a grade of C or higher.
